Focused Exposure for CMA Practical Training

Area	Key takeaways for CMA students
Internal Audit	Internal Audit gives CMA students hands-on exposure to evaluating processes, controls and risk areas across diverse industries, strengthening the analytical and cost-consciousness skills central to the CMA curriculum. It builds a strong understanding of internal controls, SOPs and operational efficiency, which pairs naturally with cost and management accounting. Early exposure to Internal Audit also opens pathways to Internal Audit and Risk Advisory functions increasingly held by CMAs in India.
Income Tax and GST	CMAs who build early expertise in Direct and Indirect Taxation are well positioned for specialised tax practice, in-house tax roles, and GST audit and advisory assignments. With GST compliance automation expanding rapidly, taxation is emerging as one of the fastest-growing practice areas for CMA professionals.
Management Consulting	Management Consulting is an emerging growth area for CMAs, whose training in costing, budgeting and performance management translates directly into strategy and process-improvement assignments. It strengthens business acumen and client-facing skills that are valuable across a CMA's career.
